Coromega® Unveils New Healthy Heart and CoQ10 Supplements

Revolutionary Omega-3 Supplement Company Introduces Two Fresh Takes on Heart Health and Antioxidants

Vista, Calif. (Nov. 11, 2008) – Premier supplements maker Coromega® today announced the release of two new products, Coromega Healthy Heart and Coromega CoQ10, offering consumers effective new ways to approach cardiovascular and overall health. Both supplements boast the great-tasting citrus flavor and creamy, pudding-like texture of Coromega’s cornerstone product, Coromega Omega-3 Squeeze, while offering the added benefits of antioxidant powerhouse, Coenzyme Q10 (CoQ10).

“Heart health continues to be at the forefront of personal care and wellness, so it was natural for us to combine the one-of-a-kind technology of our Omega-3 Squeeze with the power of antioxidants,” said Frank Morley, president and COO of Coromega. “The convenience of our proprietary squeeze packets combined with unrivaled effectiveness and great taste of our supplements will make helping your heart easier than ever before.”

Coromega Healthy Heart provides two heart-beneficial nutrients, omega-3 fish oil and CoQ10, in an innovative and easy-to-take daily-dose pouch, while Coromega CoQ10 delivers 50 mg CoQ10 in the same form, eliminating the need to take large capsules. CoQ10 is a powerful antioxidant that supports heart health, increases energy at the cellular level, aids cognitive function and neutralizes damage-causing free radicals.
